

Journal of Asian and African Studies

Published by the Research Institute for Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa

The Research Institute for Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa (ILCAA), an institution affiliated with the Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, has worked to implement and stimulate research on the languages, linguistics, history, cultural anthropology and ethnology of Asia and Africa since its foundation in 1964. It was the first Inter-University Institution to be designated in the area of Humanities and Social Sciences in Japan, and has been engaged in the computerization of data in Asian and African languages and cultures since the 1970s. This area of specialty has been strengthened further by the establishment of the Information Resources Center in 1997, the main purpose of which is to process information resources pertaining to the languages and cultures of Asia and Africa.

The Journal of Asian and African Studies welcomes contributions of "Articles" and "Source Materials" in Japanese, English, or French. Articles present original work focusing on linguistic, cultural and/or historical studies related to Asia and Africa. Source Materials provide data to be shared with researchers in relevant fields, such as texts with transcription and translation, or word lists of a language that has been little described. All papers submitted for publication in the Journal are reviewed anonymously by at least two referees.
