

The Symposium: Local Memories through African wars

-Cases of Rwanda, Sierra Leone, Somalia and Nigeria-

1st March, 2014 (Sat) 13:00-17:00

Research Institute for Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa

306MM Seminar Room

The moderator: Aya Tsuruta

Centre of African Studies at the University of Edinburgh

13:00	Opening the symposium by Natsuki Katayama
13:10	Presentation1. Natsuki Katayama 'Rwandan Civil War 1990-94: Genocide Memories through Local Narratives' Graduate Program on Human Security, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, The University of Tokyo
13:40	Presentaiton2. Nagayo Sawa 'Sierra Leone's War 1991-2002: to forgive, and to forget' Graduate Program on Human Security, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, The University of Tokyo
14:10	Presentation3. Nobue Sunaga 'Somalia's War 1980-: What is "Somalia's War"?' Department of Advanced Social and International Studies, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, The University of Tokyo
14:40	Presentation4. Takashi Tamai 'Biafran War 1967-1970: Remembrance, and Search for the Memories of Biafran War' Department of Advanced Social and International Studies, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, The University of Tokyo
15:10	Rest
15:25	Comment1. Professor Yoichi Mine, Global School of Global Studies, Doshisha University
15:45	Comment2. Professor Takehiko Ochiai, African Studies and International Relations at Ryukoku University
16:05	Response from Presenters
16:25	Questions and Answers from the floor
16:50	Closing the symposium by Natsuki Katayama
17:00	The End