

— A Geographical Typology of African Languages jointly with an international workshop on Khoisan Linguistics —

May 12—14, 2009

Large Conference Room & Room 304, ILCAA, TUFS

Provisional Schedule

May 12 (Tue.) Opening and sessions

Opening Address	Koji Miyazaki (ILCAA, Vice-President of Tokyo University of Foreign Studies)	10:20~10:30
	Makoto Minegishi (ILCAA/TUFS, Leader of Global COE)	10:30~10:45
Part 1	Bernd Heine (ILCAA/TUFS, University of Cologne) “Areas of Grammaticalization and Geographical Typology”	10:45~11:30
	Coffee break	11:30~11:45
	Alexandra Y. Aikhenvald (The Cairns Institute, James Cook University) “Areal features and linguistic areas: contact-induced change and geographical”	11:45~12:30
Lunch break		12:30~14:30
Part 2	Kazuhiro Kawachi (National Defense Academy of Japan) “Can Ethiopian languages be considered languages in the African linguistic area? The case of Highland East Cushitic languages”	14:30~15:15
	Christa Koenig (GCOE/TIFS, Johann Wolfgang Goethe University) “Case marking and linguistic geography”	15:15~16:00
	Coffee break	16:00~16:15
	Matthew Dryer (University at Buffalo) “Noun-Modifier Order in Africa”	16:15~17:00

— A Geographical Typology of African Languages jointly with an international workshop on Khoisan Linguistics —

May 12 — 14, 2009

Large Conference Room & Room 304, ILCAA, TUFS

Provisional Schedule

May 13 (Wed.) Sessions and workshop on Khoisan Linguistics

Part 3	Yuko Abe (Tokyo University of Foreign Studies) “The *-ag aspect in Eastern Bantu languages: the areal dimension”	10:00~10:45
	Osamu Hieda (ILCAA/TUFS) “Is Kumam (a western Nilotic language) is a creole language? A mechanism of language convergence”	10:45~11:30
	Coffee break	11:30~11:45
	Yaron Matras (Manchester University) “Mechanisms of convergence and their relevance to the formation of linguistic areas”	11:45~12:30
Lunch break		12:30~14:30
Part 4	Anne Storch (University of Cologne) “Ritual Pathways: Contact in a Framework of Difference, Imitation and Alterity”	14:30~15:15
	Tom Gueldemann (Humboldt University of Berlin) “Areal typology, language families, and linguistic reconstruction: the case of Proto-Bantu and Proto-Niger-Congo”	15:15~16:00
	Coffee break	16:00~16:15
	Budzani Gabanamotse (University of Botswana) “Tense and Aspect in Khoesan: the case of Naro, Ju’hoansi and !Xoo”	16:15~17:00
	Rainer Vossen (ILCAA/TUFS, Johann Wolfgang Goethe University) “Patterns of convergence in the Khoisan-speaking area of southern Africa”	17:00~17:45

— A Geographical Typology of African Languages jointly with an international workshop on Khoisan Linguistics —

May 12 – 14, 2009

Large Conference Room & Room 304, ILCAA, TUFS

Provisional Schedule

May 14 (Thu.) Workshop on Khoisan Linguistics and closing

Part5	Hitomi Ono (Reitaku University) “Two types of kinship categorization found among Central Khoisan languages”	10:00~10:45
	Anders M. Chebanne (University of Botswana) “The Eastern Kalahari Khoe: a focus on inter-Khoisan language dynamics around the Makgadikgadi Salt Pans of Botswana”	10:45~11:30
	Coffee break	11:30~11:45
	Matthias Brenzinger (University of Cologne) “Past and present distribution of the Khoisan languages: Geolinguistic approaches to the mapping of speech communities”	11:45~12:30
Lunch break		12:30~14:30
Part6	Akira Takada (Kyoto University) “Language contact and social change in North-Central Namibia: Their impact on child-group interaction among the !Xun”	14:30~15:15
	Hiroshi Nakagawa (Tokyo University of Foreign Studies) “Khoisan ideophones – a case study of G!ui - !Xoon contact”	15:15~16:00
	Coffee break	16:00~16:15
	Tom Gueldemann (Humboldt University of Berlin) “Towards an interdisciplinary approach to linguistic and population history: Khoisan family or Kalahari Basin area?”	16:15~17:00
	Bernd Heine (ILCAA/TUFS, University of Cologne) “Kx’ a: A New Khoisan Family?”	17:00~17:45
Closing	Bernd Heine (ILCAA/TUFS, University of Cologne)	17:45~18:00